

International ELINET Symposium 2018
“Literacy in the 21st Century: Participation – Inclusion – Equity”.

July 23-24, 2018, Cologne, Germany

Section IX Digital literacy and language teaching

Chairs: Fabio Nascimbeni, Universidad Internacional de la Rioja (UNIR) and Jeroen Clemens, Windesheim University for Applied Sciences, Netherlands

Tuesday, July 24, at 11.30–13.00      Location: Seminar Building / Room S 26

LITERACY CHANGES LIVES.

Digital literacy and language teaching

Time: Tuesday, July 24, at 11.30–13.00

Location: Seminar Building / Room S 26

Digital Literacy requires new skills and strategies. What can we do in the practice of education? We discuss/ show/ share what new frameworks/ concepts on/of literacy in a digital world could mean for literacy education, share ideas and good practices This session will critically look at the new frameworks and discuss what this could mean for education: challenges, possibilities and threats.

Programme:

Time	Presenter(s)	Title
11.30–11.45	Tara Wilson, Kara Rosenblatt, Ann Marie Smith, USA	Augmented reality in the content areas
11.45–12.00	Inge van de Ven, Netherlands	Integrating close and hyper-reading skills through hybrid literature
12.00–12.15	Anneke Smits, Netherlands	Digital scaffolds for reading in teacher education
12.15- 12.30	Kirsten Schindler, Matthias Knopp, Germany	Cooperative text production in digital media
12.30- 12:45	Mariska Rollmann, Netherlands	Digital literacy in a regular classroom
12.45- 13:00	Presenters and audience	Discussion and questions

Chairs: Fabio Nascimbeni, Universidad Internacional de la Rioja (UNIR) and Jeroen Clemens, Windesheim University for Applied Sciences, Netherlands